Blaine and Teesha,

Here is my “travel industry perspective” critique: We have experience with cabin rentals in San Diego, the Outer Banks (NC), Orlando (Kissimmee), New Jersey Shore (prior to Hurricane Sandy!), Poconos (PA), Big Bear (CA), and Deer Valley, Park City, and Bear Lake (UT). In Arizona: Prescott, Pine/Strawberry, and Flagstaff (Mormon Lake.)

One of the biggest frustrations with family gatherings is the kitchen: Well, NOT at the Wiggins Family Cabin: You even had a crock-pot! We could not think of a single additional suggestion to include in your well thought out kitchen appliances, utensils, etc. Very nice! We did not cook since there was just two but we clearly saw most any family menu could be completed in your cabin.

One minor thought in the adult bedrooms is a “hotel” folding style suit case stand so old folks do not have to live out of their suitcase on the floor.

That’s about it! You have done a great job with decorating and providing comforts truly beyond what we have typically experienced at cabin rentals elsewhere. Sorry we bothered you with the TV remote issues but I am not a very bright crayon on those tech operations! Thanks again! We will be in touch regarding our annual family gathering.
